Dear Student,

We are excited to announce the official opening of our Writer of The Year Award 2015. We know that achieving success as a writer isn’t always easy. That’s why we celebrate the achievements of our students with this prestigious annual award. And, this year we are accepting video entries too!

The Writer of The Year Award 2015 is open to all students of The Writers Bureau, is free to enter and, to be in with a chance of winning, you simply need to have been published within the last year. We won’t be using financial gain alone as the measure of your success – we are interested in much more than that. We want to hear about any publishing success you’ve had – whether paid or not – and about how you feel your course has helped you develop as a writer. You could, for example, tell us about the most unusual payment or gift you’ve received for your writing, or if you’ve had success with a genre you thought you wouldn’t enjoy. We also want to hear about how you’ve grown as a person. Perhaps you’ve finally found the confidence to interview a famous person or speak in front of an audience at a book signing.

In short the award will be given to the student who, we feel, has developed the most as a writer.

The winner will receive a £250 cash prize and there are four runners-up awards of £50 each. The winner’s details will be published on our website, in all types of printed promotional material and, if entry is by video, on our YouTube channel.

The award will be judged in January 2015. So, if you would like to be considered for the Writer of The Year 2015 Award then your application must be received by 31st December 2014.

We’re excited to see how your life has changed since enrolling with us and we can’t wait to receive your entries. Don’t forget, being judged the winner of the Writer of The Year Award 2015 will give you a plethora of advertising exposure, which is great for raising your profile as a writer and looks fantastic on your portfolio!
